“Developing: Refining the team structure around specific fundraising tasks and related skills will bring more precision and effectiveness.

Reflection:

- Others -

Action:

Notes for Development:

1. Refining the team structure around specific fundraising tasks and related skills will bring more precision and effectiveness.
2. For a growing organisation and increasing complexity of program delivery, expansion etc., consider raising the fundraising team capacity and make the structure future proof.
3. Present structure and team capacity may be adequate to meet current funding need. But it may impede any further strategic development of the fundraising function to augment the organisational mission effectively.
